

Security Questionnaire - Question 15

15: Does your organization have monitoring and alerting mechanisms for real-time detection and triage of events?

Answer: Yes - We have monitoring and alerting mechanisms for real-time detection and triage of events.

Comment:

Our organization has implemented real-time monitoring and alerting solutions across all production systems. We use automated detection tools to identify security threats and anomalies as they occur, with alerts routed to our engineering and security teams for immediate triage. This ensures that any potential threats are promptly assessed and addressed to maintain the integrity and security of our systems.
